

TBSeal Drive Begins

APPEALS MAILED

THIS WEEK FOR CHRISTMAS 1961

The Milam County Tuberculosis Association Christmas Seal campaign got underway Monday night when 25 members of the association met at Singer's Grill in Rockdale for the annual "Stuffing Party."

Around 2,000 appeal letters and seals were readied for mailing to all parts of the county, according to Dr. E. O. Smith, Jr., president.

LaVert McKinney, of Cameron is serving as chairman of the 1961 drive and Dr. Alonzo A. Urban of Rockdale is co-chairman, Smith continued.

Milano typing students under the supervision of Mrs. Theda McGee, were commended by McKinney, for the many hours of typing they contributed in behalf of the campaign.

When your postman delivers your letter to you next week, do not lay it aside and forget it. Send in your contribution and USE your seals to make your letters, packages, and cards more attractive, the drive chairman said.

Eighty-two cents of every dollar stays in Milam County to help local people, McKinney stated. Funds raised in Milam County are used to purchase medicine, help in casefinding, providing clothing, for indigent patients and instruct the general public in the latest information available for the eradication of TB. Some of our patients have no families and no other encouragement than that which they receive from this association.

Your purchase of Christmas seals in the past has made the work of the association possible. Your purchase now will make it possible for another year, McKinney said.

City Okays Plans For Dam, Paving

The City Council Tuesday gave approval on a profile of city dam repairs at Little River and a one-block trial surface of Alcoa slurry seal on North Houston in downtown Cameron.

Approval for construction on one end of the existing dam followed an explanation of structure by Engineer Frank Perrin.

The project still must get approval from the State Water Board of Engineers before construction can begin and bids called for on materials, officials noted.

It involves construction of two projects from the end of the dam into the bank of the river. Flow of the river has cut into the bank on the north side of the dam.

Some dredging work is also projected in river bed above the dam.

A spokesman for Young Brothers, of Rockdale and Waco, told Councilmen the slurry seal coat can save existing cover cracks in the original asphalt surface. Councilmen approved the one-block test area from 100 - 200 North Houston.

Public Works Supt. J. B. Earle reported completion of several projects, including:

Santa Parade Dec. 1

ST. NICK PLANS VISIT WITH KIDS At COURTHOUSE

Cameron's annual Christmas parade will be 4 p. m. Friday, December 1, in downtown Cameron, according to Chamber Manager Jack DuBois.

Santa Claus will make his 1961 preview visit in Milam County and will be the feature attraction among a host of floats and marching units in the parade.

Date for the annual parade was set in a recent meeting of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

About 7,500 people attended the traditional Christmas parade in Cameron last year.

The annual Christmas parade rivals any similar parade in Central Texas.

Santa Claus will bring up the rear of the parade column and meet hundreds of Milam County youngsters at the Courthouse following the parade, DuBois said.

Officials said Scout units and 4-H entries have already signed up. Upwards to 50 units including bands, special Christmas floats and new cars appear in the parade each year.

All community and civic organizations are invited to enter the parade.

Cash prizes will be awarded by the Cameron Chamber for the best floats judged on: Overall beauty, originality, workmanship and theme.

During his visit with Milam County and Cameron children, Santa will give out gifts of candy, a traditional presentation.

Two Suits Filed In District Court

Two suits for recovery of damages -- one for $40,000 in insurance, the other for $61,973.05 -- were filed in District Court last week.

Robert Larry Scott, owner of Milam Theatre, and his wife, Ruth Ann Wafford Scott, have filed to collect $40,000 from Commercial Standard Fire & Marine Co.

The plaintiffs seek to collect the face amount of insurance coverage following the loss of Milam Theatre July 22 in downtown Cameron, estimated by the plaintiffs to be $30,000 for the building and $10,000 for the contents.

Scott's petition says the insurance company, carrying a policy on the building and contents, has refused to pay damages resulting from the fire.

The petition further stated the Company was unable to adjust within the given period after the fire loss, "which in effect failed and refused to pay said claim."

Scott alleges the Company's refusal constitutes a waiver of any formal proceedings.

The second suit was against Wade Augustus Brooks, and T. M. Sappington, both of Waco, for $61,973.05 in damages following the death of Wanda Mae Decker, 21, of Texas City, of injuries incurred in a collision July 13.

It was the second suit against

New Auto For City Patrolmen

'Day In The Life Of ...'

Police Work At Service

By Robert Mann

What happens during a routine night in the life of a Cameron policeman?

To answer this question, this reporter spent last Saturday, from 7 p. m. to 4 a. m., on routine patrol with Cameron Police Officers Edwin Brockenbush and Vernie Miller.

During those nine hours, Car 5 (call number of the police car) covered well over a hundred miles, answered several complaints and its drivers showed efficiency that Cameron people can be proud of.

The following is an actual report of a night with Car 5.

About 8 p. m. Patrolman Miller spotted a dog lying by the side of the road at the corner of Jefferson and Batte. The dog had been struck by a car and was beyond medical help. A shell from Officer Brockenbush's 22 - caliber pistol put him out of his misery. Brockenbush carries the 22-pistol especially for such incidents.

MAN SOUGHT

A call from Dispatcher Pat McCall sent Brockenbush and Miller into a colored beer joint in search of a man being sought by Cameron police. Search was negative. Brockenbush left word with the proprietor to call the police if the man should come in.

Cameron police, as well as Highway Patrolman Jack Straley received an out - of - town call to keep an eye out for a 1952 black Desoto believed to be coming through Cameron, enroute to Rogers. Occupants of the car were wanted for questioning on a stolen vehicle charge.

Straley staked out at the Rockdale - Cameron Y while Car 5 staked out near the Cameron city limits sign. The Desoto didn't show.

Car 5 got a call from the night watchman about 10 p. m. to investigate a disturbance behind the McLane Wholesale House. There they found a cat that had been poisoned. Brockenbush destroyed the cat.

Two hours of routine patrol followed. Three times during my nine-hour ride a time clock was punched in the Santa Fe Town area. Each time doors were checked for possible burglaries.

UNLOCKED DOORS

Brockenbush commented, "You'd be surprised how many people walk off without locking their doors. Miller finds doors standing wide open all the time."

A word of warning was issued to a man with a bad headlight and a call was checked out on a car of five teenagers who were reported drinking and attempting to start a fight. License number of the car was recorded for future investigation.

At 2 a. m. Brockenbush called it a night. He would go back on patrol at 7 a. m. the next morning. Miller patrolled until then.

Cruising through Cameron's residential section disclosed a car door left open; two parked cars were checked out and a Negro woman was picked up on the highway near the Wagon Wheel Inn. Miller carried the woman home with a word of warning to stay there.

PREVENT INCIDENTS

Both patrolmen agreed that 90 per cent of the work was to prevent, not enforce. They added that Cameron people were exceptionally good when it came to traffic violations. Not a single traffic ticket was issued during the nine - hour drive. There just weren't any people breaking traffic regulations; however, "There are times when we could use five cars to handle the situation when the traffic is heavy," said Brockenbush.

Miller, a member of the force for almost three years, said that the amount of disturbance, traffic violations, and other offenses had greatly decreased in the past two or three years.

Boy Scout Drive Underway For Cameron Area

Coffee and donuts will be served everyone who attends the meeting.

The combined efforts of the Cameron Rotary Club, who is sponsoring the drive and the Cameron Lions Club, co - sponsors in the appeal will make the drive possible.

A special gifts drive to raise money from the downtown business establishments is already underway. Excellent reports are already coming in. The Citizens National Bank has already pledged $500. This first pledge came from Oxsheer Smith, President of the bank.

Maysfield School

Damaged By Fire;

Half Burned Out

The yeomen work of the Cameron Fire Dept. early Tuesday prevented the total loss of the blazing Maysfield School.

Officials estimated the loss to be between $10,000 and $15,000 to the school's combination lunch - room - rec. hall - auditorium. It constituted about half of the structure.

Vaughn "Doc" Thweatt, a school trustee, said reconstruction would begin as soon as insurance adjusters establish exact amount of the loss.

Meanwhile, about 40 Maysfield School students, from grades one through eight, are going to classes in the two remaining classrooms on the east end of the building.

Thweatt said the blaze was out in about 30 minutes. The Cameron pump unit finally ran out of water and bucket brigade of Maysfield men and firemen was formed to carry water from a store in barrels.

The fire, of an undetermined cause, started about 5:30 a. m. Tuesday. No one was in the building at the time.

The entire auditorium combination went up in flames after the fire started, observers said.

Hello Everybody!

This is Don Prince, Austin, Texas.

Listen "real good", 'cause I have something to tell you: Sunday is mighty near —time to go to church again, or time to start going if you're not in the habit already.

Whatever you do, don't miss church. Life can mean so much more to us, and we can mean so much more to others—even to the whole wide-world if we are a part of the church.

I've been going ever since I was six days old. I'm three now; years, that is. Looked like I just had to wait six days to start, 'cause, you see, I was born on Monday!

Of course, Mommy and Daddy take me, but they stay, too, 'cause there's a place for ever'body in Sunday school. Then, after that, the preacher, too, (he's my good friend), tells 'bout Jesus, an' more 'n more folks learn to love Jesus an' begin living for Him. That's what church is for—an' it's th' happiest place in th' world. 'cept home when folks let Jesus live there, too.

I'm so happy to invite you to church. Jesus said, "A little child shall lead them." I'd be so glad to know that you went. Want to write to me? I live at 1706 East Avenue. Got it? 1706 East Avenue! This is "long distance"—gotta go now. 'Bye!

By Pat C. Garner
Ass't. Milam County Agent

The rules of gun safety were given to all community 4-H Clubs this month in the program presented by the Extension Agents.

Are you planning on going hunting this year? If you are it will be a good idea to review the 10 commandments of Gun Safety before you go. Remember it is a buck's head and not some other hunters, that you will want to mount on the wall in your den.

What are the Ten Commandments of Gun Safety? In case you have forgotten them, following is the list: 1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety. 2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your auto, camp and home. 3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clean of obstructions. 4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble.

Yoemen Drop 'Bell Game'

Tigers Upset Yoemen, 16-0

A scrappy Rockdale Tiger team took full advantage of near-freezing weather and Yoemen fumbles to upset Cameron, 16-0 in last Friday night's traditional gridiron battle for the bell at Tiger Field in Rockdale.

Ronnie Menn made the most of a packed house of hometown backers and accounted for 10 of the Tigers 16 points. Quarterback Donnie Laurence aided Menn in the scoring department with an insurance touchdown in the third quarter of play.

Menn scored his TD midway through the second period on a 7 yard plunge up the middle.

He kicked a field goal in the closing minutes of the third quarter to assure Rockdale of another 3 points.

Donnie Laurence scored on a quarterback sneak up the middle from the six-inch line in the final frame.

Cameron was hard hit by fumbles from the opening whistle. They lost the ball in the second quarter on the Rockdale 43 yardline. From there the Tigers drove the remaining 57 yards to paydirt.

In that 57 yard drive, Tiger Ronnie Brannon recovered his own punt on the Cameron 23 yardline to set the stage for Menn's plunge up the middle seconds later.

The Yoemen lost the ball on downs and penalties in the third quarter at the Tiger 21 yardline. A 42 yard pass play from Laurence to Menn brought the pigskin to the Cameron 25. The Tigers drove to the 12 where Menn booted his field goal.

A 65 yard drive that included Rockdale recovering its own fumble once brought the Tigers to the Yoemen six-inch line in the final frame. Laurence pushed his way up the middle for the Rockdale's final six points.

FIRST QUARTER

Cameron received the kickoff and returned the ball to their own 18 yardline. Bayer picked up 23 yards on the second play from scrimmage and Doskocil got 10 on the first. The Yoemen cooled off a little and lost a couple of yards. An incomplete pass and punt by Bayer gave the Tigers the ball on their own 11 yardline.

Brannon picked up 9. A 5 yard penalty was stepped off against the Tigers. Brannon got 10, Laurence 2, Lester Gibson 6, Laurence 4, Menn 4, Brannon 1, and a pass went bad. Brannon punted 29 yards to the Yoemen receiving point, their 30 yardline.

Cameron took a 15 yard penalty placing them in control on the 15. Doskocil picked up 2 and 4 yards. A pass went incomplete and Bayer booted 22 yards to the Cameron 43 where the Tigers flubbed the ball and the Yoemen took over again, this time at the 43.

Doskocil got 2 and Jimmy Woodum hit Ernie Bayer with a 3 yard pass before a fumble gave the Tigers control on the Cameron 47.

Menn got 5, Cameron got a 5 yard penalty, and Laurence picked up a 2 yard gain to end the first quarter of play.

SECOND QUARTER

Laurence was thrown for a 4 yard loss and then hit Menn with a 7 yard toss. Laurence was stopped at the line and Brannon booted 12 yards to the Cameron 20 yardline.

Bayer got 2, Doskocil 2 and 3 and Bayer punted 31 yards. Rockdale lost track of the ball and Cameron recovered it on the Rockdale 42 yardline. Bayer got 4, Doskocil 2 and Bayer lost 6. Cameron fumbled and Rockdale recovered on the 43.

Two attempted passes missed the boat and Laurence was thrown for an 8 yard loss on the third play from scrimmage. Brannon booted 34 yards to the Cameron 23. The Yoemen fumbled the punt return and the Tigers took over on the Yoemen 23 yardline. Menn got 7, Laurence 3 and 6. Brannon got 5 and Rockdale got a 5 yard penalty.

Menn plunged up the middle on the next play for 7 yards and six points. His kick for the extra point made it 7-0, Rockdale in front. Following the kickoff to Cameron Doskocil picked up 6 yards. Woodum went up the middle on a keeper play for a 15 yard gain.

Hunting Fishing Big Business

COLLEGE STATION — There must something to these outdoor sports of hunting and fishing, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist. According to a survey conducted recently by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, he says some 30 million people in the United States hunt and fish and that fishermen outnumber the hunters by about 2 to 1.

About $4 billion are poured into the American economy each year by these outdoorsmen, says Cooper. This money is spent mainly for equipment, transportation, food and lodging.

St. Anthonys Announces PTC Carnival, Nov. 22

The Parent - Teachers Club of St. Anthony School has announced plans for a Thanksgiving Carnival Wednesday, Nov. 22, beginning at 6:00 p. m. at Simon - George Hall.

The PTC sponsored Carnival has been one of the most popular events during the school year since its beginning, about 5 years ago.

Featured will be a cake wheel, a gift shop, a country store, a fish pond and hot dogs, kolaches, pies, tea and coffee.

PTC members and ladies of St. Monica's parish have been working for several weeks making gifts for the gift shop.

PTC officials expressed the hope that everyone in Cameron and the Cameron area will make plans now to attend the Carnival.

Proceeds from the annual event are used to buy chairs, desks, books and other school supplies for St. Anthony school.

"You'll not only be helping the children but you'll also have yourself a wonderful time," Mrs. George Hollas, PTC president added.

"There'll be a lot of wholesome entertainment for the entire family. And everyone comments each year that the homemade cakes, pies and kolaches are delicious and that the gifts are fun to take home. We hope to see everyone there."

Food Sense □ Not Nonsense

Break Through for Peak Performance

Cutting through center to score peak performance for athletes is a treasure fund of research-backed rules on food. Published recently in Physiological Reviews, the research shunts aside food fallacies and old wives tales. It gives beleaguered team physicians, coaches, school administrators, parents, you and me—when we play the endurance game—ground rules to follow.

Energy. To endure, make sure you have energy on tap, whether for chasing a 3-year old all day, for a prolonged football game, or for golf. A continuing flow of energy depends on the food you eat and your supply of oxygen. In using oxygen to release energy, carbohydrate is 10 percent more effective than fat or protein.

Meal timing. Space 4-6 meals daily within your calorie quota. Vitamins. Hard, physical exercise increases your need for B vitamins—thiamine in particular. A thiamine shortage causes fatigue and exhaustion. To make sure of thiamine, eat liver and pork often, enriched or whole grain bread and cereal daily.

Best advice for amateur and professional athlete alike, say authors Jean Mayer and Beverly Bullen: Eat a variety of foods daily—Enriched or whole grain bread and cereal, milk or cheese, meat or an alternate, fruits and vegetables.

Special Pre-Event Meal Instructions for Strenuous Contests:

- Avoid a heavy meal within 3-4 hours before the game.
- For endurance events, concentrate on foods high in carbohydrate, low in fat. Include plenty of cereal, bread, jam, honey.
- To prevent disabling discomfort during the game, avoid high protein and bulky foods.
- Omit coffee, tea, and alcohol to avoid a depressing effect later.

Baby-Sitters Need Home Safety Talk

The baby sitter, unless selected and coached with great care, can be a real danger to the well-being of children, according to C. M. Burke, Lone Star Gas Company manager.

Lone Star and The Cameron Herald are co-sponsors of the 1961 Home Safety Program in Cameron.

The following rules of procedure should be observed, Burke said.

1. Be sure that the sitter is in good health.
2. Before the parents leave the house, they should see that the child is acquainted with the baby-sitter.
3. Give the sitter instruction regarding her duties. Include information on feeding, stories to be read, play routine, bathing and toilet procedures, sleeping garments and medication.
4. Give the sitter written instruction on emergency procedures. These instructions should include the address and telephone number at which parents can be reached, the name, address and telephone number of the physician to be called, as well as the number of the doctor's exchange; the name, address and telephone number of the neighbor to be summoned if immediate help is needed; and the telephone number of the fire and police departments.

5. Acquaint the baby sitter with features of the home. Coach her on precautions that should be taken to avoid cuts, burns and falls. Point out the safe play areas and the danger spots with in the house. Show her how to turn on and off the range and where to find light switches. Warn her of dangerous habits the child may have, such as a tendency to go too close to the portable fan or heater or to play with electric cords and sockets and of the possible risk the child may incur by playing with pets.
6. The sitter should know when the parents will return home. She should understand that no one is to be allowed to enter the house in their absence, except persons she is allowed to summon in an emergency. If a friend is to share a portion of the evening with the sitter, the friend should arrive with her and be introduced to the parents.

Mrs. Lester Explains Art of Decoupage At Delphian Program

Mrs. Merlin Lester presented a program on The Art of Decoupage for the Delphian Club meeting Tuesday afternoon. Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. Morris Eplen. Mrs. Lester gave background information about the 18th century art of painting with paper and displayed an article of furniture that she was refinishing.

Following the program pie and coffee were served in the dining room to members and one guest, Mrs. Wayland Kidd of Midland. A Thanksgiving scene centered the serving table. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Walter Sharpe and Miss Mildred Thornton.

Dear Sister:

Dear Sister:

One of my dreams is coming true. I'm off in a couple of weeks to Washington with politics, Philadelphia with Independence Hall and New York with "What's My Line." And a must in New York if to see LIVE a performance of that favorite program of mine.

For years I have looked forward to Sunday nights and the especially brilliant repartee flashing back and forth from the mouths of those babes, Arlene Frances and Dorothy Kilgallen. To say nothing of Bennett Cerf's puns and the guest panelist's utter confusion and finally passing. And, of course, the bewildering John Daly explanations.

A friend said, "You ought to get on the program." I carefully explained that was impossible. In spite of some thinking me unique because I write a shopper's column combined with a gossip column, I have no unusual occupation. But her remark started me thinking of a way to puzzle that panel.

Say for instance, I kept all my jobs in mind like: President of Hoe and Hope Club; finance and purchasing chairman of the garden club, as well as presidents of its past presidents' council; chairman of the board of the three book review clubs; vice president of church garden club; area director of a district and press chairman of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc.; director of local United Fund; steward of First Methodist Church; self-appointed seamstress and milliner to the family; antique show putter - oner and a newspaper columnist.

As the panel asked questions, I could say yes as to a service, a product, profit making and non-profit-making organizations. I could answer yes to just about everything except, "Is it bigger than a breadbox?"

Answering yes to all the questions, bearing in mind whatever job I wanted to in answering, would really be confusing. But think what pandemonium I'd throw them into if I could answer yes with descriptive phrases. Like:

"Do you make anything?" "Yes hardly anything moneywise."

"Do you wear a uniform?" Yes, skirt and sweater by winter, sundress by summer."

"Do your looks have anything to do with your job?" "Yes. That's a joke. I look like this because of my job."

"Is it a civil service?" "Yes. In my work you have to be civil."

Then for the questions that would require a no answer, how's this for description asides?

"Does your work require special education?" "No. Not so far but some of it would surely help." Or that one could be a yes answer, too. "Yes, but I don't have any."

"Is there anything sportsmanlike in what you do?" "No. I razz everyone alike."

Course, if D. K. asked, "Could I use your product," I'd have to answer no while thinking of my columns. Then, if Bennett Cerf asked the same question, I'd say yes. (He could publish that book I'm compiling.) They would then think men, but not women, could use my product."

By the time I've said yes to everything and then no to everything, they'd ask for a conference to discuss if they had missed seeing more than one of me. John Daly could straighten them out by saying, "With Mrs. B's permission, let's say she's parous, procrastinating, practically a parish, sans parka, trying to be a prototype. Think those city folks could ever figure out what I really am? If so, they probably would say, "What a Line!" Hearing the program, my fellow townspeople would be tempted to add a line.

But, after all, sister, you and I know I am a typical small town citizen. And thirteen jobs for one of them critters ain't nothin'.

Love,
Sister

Farm Group Boosts Industry...

The Milam County Farm Bureau has approved, among 19 resolutions, a TFB program for the encouragement of community industrial development.

As far as memory serves us, this is one of the first such endorsements of industrial development by a basic farm group.

Such an endorsement tells a story of recognition. It shows the realization that agriculture and industry share integral parts in the development of communities, almost regardless of size.

Indeed Milam County communities, enjoying proximity to some of the richest soil of Texas and a central location in the Texas heartland, are rich primary examples of industry and agriculture advantages combined.

Cameron has a broad based economy starting with agriculture, diversified by wholesale company and other payrolls, and broadened by the advent of Alcoa, Walled Lake Door and other smaller manufacturing operations.

Rockdale with its Alcoa plant also has agricultural trade support. And the southeast county town of Thorndale has grown by 100 persons on the strength of Alcoa's location east of her.

Those communities solely dependent on agriculture can best plan for stability in working with their agriculture resources to develop industry in tune with the processing of an area.

Agriculture and industry established with this relationship in mind can work to the benefit of both.

We do not know what direction such an endorsement will take small communities. But is certain that good things can happen to industry and agriculture when they are working together.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

Remember the first gun you ever owned? You tendered it with loving hands and cleaned it thoroughly after every hunt or session on the gun range.

But as time passed, you spent less and less time cleaning the weapon. Then, lo and behold, one day you took it down from the rack and discovered rust.

This sort of thing usually happens the week before hunting season and then you have to hot-foot around and get the gun in condition for hunting.

There are two ways to clean a gun - the right way and the wrong way. So let's look at the right way.

First get a good nitro powder solvent, a can of gun oil, gun patches and a rifle rod of the proper size and length.

Then disassemble the gun. Use screwdrivers of the proper size so as not to damage the heads of screws.

With the stock and bolt removed, examine the bore. Is it dusty? Does it appear to be filled with filth? Is it rusty?

If it appears too dark, some hard scrubbing with the powder solvent is in order. Insert a patch on the head of the rifle rod, soak it with solvent and insert it from the breech end of the gun.

If it can be avoided, never clean a gun from the muzzle. The last few inches of a gun's barrel are the determinate factors of accuracy. Any damage here would ruin the performance of the gun.

After scrubbing the bore, run a dry patch down the barrel and check both the patch and the barrel. If the barrel is bright and shining and the patch not too dirty, then all that is needed is several more dry patches followed by one soaked with gun oil. But if the barrel is still dirty, repeat scrubbing with powder solvent.

Next, clean the action and the outside of the gun.

An old toothbrush makes a good scrub brush for the hard to get place. In the absence of powder solvent, use hot soapy water. Clean the grit and unburned powder grains from the action and wipe the outside of the gun free from dust and grime.

If spots of rust are found, the powder solvent, or kerosene applied to a ball of very fine steel wool will do the job and not damage the weapon's finish.

Wipe dry and apply a good gun lubricating oil. If the gun is to be stored for a long period it's a good idea to swab the bore and all metal parts exposed to air with a liberal quantity of rust inhibiting grease.

Tourists Didn't Come To Texas

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — What happened to the million tourists who did not come to Texas this year?

That question faces a Statewide Conference "Texans for Tourists" called for November 23 in Austin, by Gov. Price Daniel.

Since 1957, the number of tourists coming to Texas has steadily declined. Governor Daniel always has felt that Texas should match the advertising programs of other states.

Nationally, tourism is the third largest industry. In Texas, it ranks 13th.

Texas voters amended the constitution in 1958 to allow state money to be spent to attract tourists. But two sessions of the Legislature have declined to appropriate the money.

Charged with responsibility of promoting tourism in Texas is the State Highway Department.

The upcoming all-day session is designed to build grassroots support for legislation to finance a program of advertising.

SAFE HIGHWAYS

An increase in highway fatalities this year, after a 26 per cent decline in past years, disturbs the state's chief policeman, Col. Homer Garrison Jr. of the Department of Public Safety.

Present statistics indicate the number of deaths in 1961 will be 20 to 25 more than the 2,254 of 1960. So Colonel Garrison has sent out word for his men to redouble their efforts to remove the unsafe and reckless drivers from the highways.

Program includes more use of radar equipment to check speeds, especially the new type which requires only one highway patrolman per car. It also includes more stopping of drivers to make sure they hold drivers licenses.

Tougher enforcement policy will be followed by Governor Daniel's annual Christmas traffic safety drive starting with Safety Sunday—December 10. Governor Daniel urged pastors to remind their members of their personal and moral obligation to drive carefully.

More and more people are using the state park system for overnight camping.

Bill M. Collins, executive director of the State Parks Board, reported that 398,419 persons registered for overnight camp facilities in Texas parks during the fiscal year which ended August 31. This is far above the 297,418 of the previous year.

Attracting the greatest number were the rugged canyons of Garner State Park. Gain there was 70 per cent, or an increase to 183,519 from 99,731 during 1961. Palo Duro Canyon and Huntsville State Park also showed substantial gains in campers.

WATER CHANGES

Personnel of the important State Board of Water Engineers has undergone a shake-up.

Governor Daniel has moved Chairman Durwood Manford to the State Board of Insurance, which is troubled by several legislative investigations. Manford, a former speaker of the House of Representatives, can be expected to work on Board - Legislative relations.

To replace Manford, Daniel chose as chairman of the Board of Water Engineers Joe D. Carter of Sherman. He moved him from his present job as executive director of the Texas Water Department Board the state water lending agency.

Carter has been in state water work since 1952. He has served as legal counsel for the Texas Water Resources Committee; legal examiner for the Board of Water Engineers; and as the first executive secretary of the Water Development Board. He is an attorney and a former representative and senator.

H. A. Beckwith of Eagle Pass was named to the Board of Water Engineers. He previously served 10 years on the board. Since 1958 he has been its chief topographic engineer. R. M. Dixon of Dallas leaves the board.

The Board of Water Engineers is the state's water administrative and planning board. It decided who can take water from Texas streams. It also has worked out a master plan for meeting the needs of the state for municipal and industrial water for the year 1980.

Men have more than twice as many fatal accidents as women. In a recent typical year, 65,823 men and only 28,957 women died in accidents of all kinds.

Texas Taxpayers Get IRS Aids

Texas taxpayers will get a break in claiming Texas Sales tax payments on their federal income tax returns for 1961. This was announced today by B. Frank White, Internal Revenue Service Regional Commissioner for Texas and four other southwestern states.

The IRS has devised a Texas Sales Tax Table to help the Texas taxpayer calculate his state sales tax deduction at a glance and without troublesome record keeping.

According to White, Texas taxpayers who itemize their deductions on Form 1040 will not have to keep their state sales tax records, providing their Texas sales tax deductions do not exceed those on the Tax Table.

"Texas taxpayers making state sales tax payments in excess of the amounts shown on the Table may take deductions to which they are lawfully entitled," White said.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Wonders How Russian School Children Get Along In Their History Courses

Dear editor:

In between all those test bombs the Russians have been setting off recently there was an interesting piece of news out of Russia that I read in a newspaper an insurance salesman left out here - incidentally, I didn't take any of his insurance, on account of we had a disagreement on what extended coverage included; he said it included such things as hail, winstorms, lightning, etc., and I thought it ought to cover Russian fallout too - at any rate, to get on with this particular piece of news.

According to it, the late Stalin's body, which has been kept in a glass tomb in Red Square for Russians to file by in hero worship, has been removed on orders of Khrushchev, who is a candidate for the spot himself later on. Furthermore, the Russians have now been informed that Stalin was a bum.

Now I was just thinking, what sort of a problem does this present to Russian school kids?

On Friday they took their home work with them, with an assignment to memorize the birth and death dates of Stalin and recite at least ten of his many heroic achievements for the People's Democracy. On Monday they were told to turn in their history books, due to a typographical error the books were strong about Stalin.

I can hear a good Communist teacher telling her pupils: "I just don't know how such an error could creep in, I should have caught it myself, but everybody knows, if he listened to the radio Sunday, that Stalin is no hero and never was. What I said about him Friday when I was bragging on him, you will immediately erase from your minds."

I tell you, teaching school in Russia must be a trying job. If everything you learn is going to be subject to change without notice, you might as well play it safe and stay ignorant. The only people who came out on the long end of his latest Russian switch were the Russian school kids who failed to do their home work on that weekend.

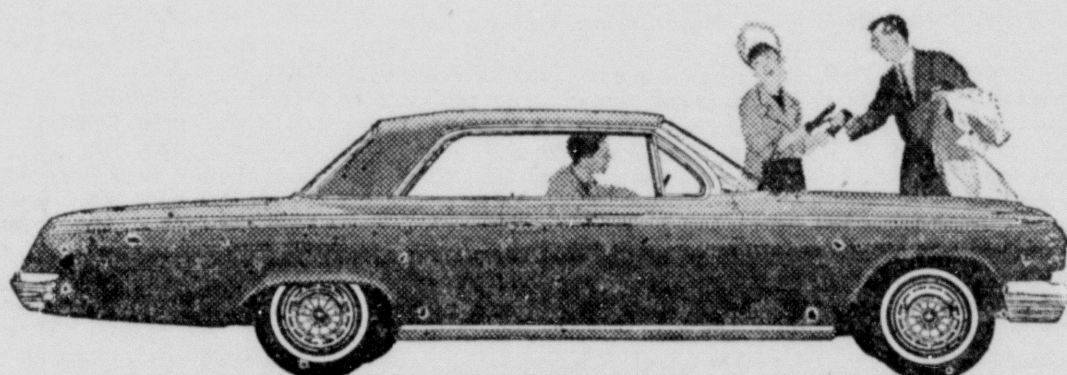

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Milam ASCS

Report By Milam County ASCS

Applications for the shorn wool and unshorn lambs incentive payments should be filed with the ASCS office by the producer as soon as possible after completion of the sale of the wool or lambs. The 1961 marketing year for wool and lambs ends March 31, 1962 and all applications must be on file in the county office no later than April 30, 1962.

Unauthorized grazing of diverted 1961 Feed Grain acreage may result in the producer having to refund payments received for diversion. The Performance Supervisor has reported a few cases of such unauthorized grazing and when such a report is made, it is then the unpleasant duty of the County Committee to investigate the circumstances and possibly request a refund of payment made. Designated diverted 1961 Feed Grain acreage may not be grazed, unless authorized by the County Committee, and no crops may be harvested from these acres until after January 1, 1962. The land may be prepared for planting now and may be seeded in preparation for a 1962 harvest if this is the normal procedure for the area in which the land is located.

The County Office is doing some ground work, at this time, in preparation for figuring allotments for cotton and peanuts. Allotment notices will be mailed early in December.

We've been talking about wheat allotments and wheat exemptions for some time now and while most people prefer to exemptions as allotments, there is quite a difference in the two terms as they are used with regard to wheat. An allotment is an acreage of wheat that may be planted and the crop sold on the open market or placed on loan at support price. An exemption is an acreage of wheat that may be planted and the crop sold on the open market only. There are two kinds of exemptions. The other kind of wheat exemption is an acreage of wheat which may not be used for home consumption only and may not be removed from the farm on which it was produced.

By Pat C. Garner
Ass't Milam County Agent

The Milam county 4-H Junior Dairy Club met Saturday, October 28, in the District Courtroom in Cameron.

Officers elected for the coming year are: President, Michael Rek; Vice president, Dennis Jistel; secretary - Treasurer, Gwendolyn Jistel; reporter, Ronald Kostroun; Recreation Leader, Carolyn Jistel and council delegate, Curtis Parsons.

The group plans to meet every other month on Saturday.

FROST EXPECTED

A killing frost can be expected in most areas of the state any time now, and when it comes could mean trouble for livestock producers.

Accidents in which deaths and injuries occur, together with non injury motor vehicle accidents and fires, cost the nation approximately 11.9 billion dollars per year.

300 Rural Students Attend Community Fair At Gause

More than three hundred 4-H Club and other boys and girls from Milam, Branchville, Hearne, Mumfords and Gause schools attended the Gause Community Fair recently.

The Community Fair which is in its second year is sponsored jointly by the faculty of Gause Elementary School and the Milam County Extension service.

The following divisions were represented at the fair: Quilts and tops, decorative pillows, crocheted doilies, table clothes; Clothing included dresses, aprons, shirts and skirts; Food and pastries shown were: cakes, pies, cookies and canned foods of many types.

The hobby shop included an array of items that can be done for both past - time or pleasure.

The Agriculture exhibit included crops of sweet potatoes, corn, sugar cane, syrup, fresh vegetables, peanuts and pecans. Also, classes and pens of poultry; three breeds of swine; cattle and horses.

A talk was given by the County Agent on "Preparing Today for Careers Tomorrow." Games were played and programs held in both the morning and afternoon.

The members of the Gause 4-H club took an active part in making the fair a success and served as junior hosts and hostesses to the visiting schools.

County Agents Notes

'62 Livestock Show Planned

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

A meeting of the committee to start plans for the 1962 Junior Livestock Show was held Monday John S. Batte, chairman of the committee for a number of years, called the meeting.

The date for the show was set for Jan. 20, 1962 to be held in Cameron on the McLane lot east of the courthouse. The county agents were asked to write the A. H. Dept at A & M College and request their assistance in furnishing a judge for the show. F. I. Dahlberg, Professor of Animal Husbandry at A & M, judged the show in 1961.

The group agreed to show the breeding beef heifers for champion and reserve champion of their classes and not in competition with the steers for champion.

It was agreed that the Milam county 4-H Council with the assistance of the adult leaders, operate the 4-H concession stand as in the past.

Superintendents appointed by Batte for the various divisions were: H. L. McClaren, Beef Cattle; Henry Richter, Swine; James Luckey and C. Tittsworth, Dairy and Ed Laywell and Sam Hillman, Sheep. Fat lambs were added to the show in 1961 for the first time.

Jack DuBois, local 4-H club leader and Chamber of Commerce Manager, discussed the possibility of staging a MALL with local merchants participating. He indicated further plans for this part of the show would be developed through C of C. committees and the board of directors of the Chamber.

Plans for a permanent county-wide Livestock Association organization came up for discussion. The need for such an organization with a county board of directors and officers has been suggested now for several years.

John Datté, chairman, asked those in attendance to discuss the possibility of such an organization out in their communities. Mayor Coleman Duncum entertained a motion that 10 per cent of the annual contributions to the show be put in a saving fund for future permanent facilities for a county livestock and agricultural display elected temporary chairman to head plans for a county livestock association. The motion carried.

A motion was made by Jack DuBois and seconded by H. L. McClaren that John S. Batte be head plans for a county livestock association. The motion carried.

A motion was made by Bo Tittsworth that Dana Monroe be elected temporary sec. - treas. to assist in handling records, correspondence and funds until a permanent organization is developed. Motion carried.

The group agreed to invite any livestock breeders who have breeding animals representative of their breeds to exhibit their stock at the show for exhibition only.

It was voted by the group not to have the prejudging contest due to the limited time and schedule.

Junior exhibitors showing pigs and lambs are to furnish their own 4 x 6 panel type pens for their animals. County agents and vocational agriculture teachers are to discourage the showing of any animals not representative of the high standards expected at major shows.

Registration papers are not required on breeding beef and dairy animals. However, only high quality, well fitted animals are to be exhibited.

Entry blanks will be mailed to vocational agriculture teachers and it is recommended that all entries be turned into the assistant county agent or brought to the next general meeting to be held on Jan. 8, at the vocational agriculture building in Cameron.

Enjoy better living...

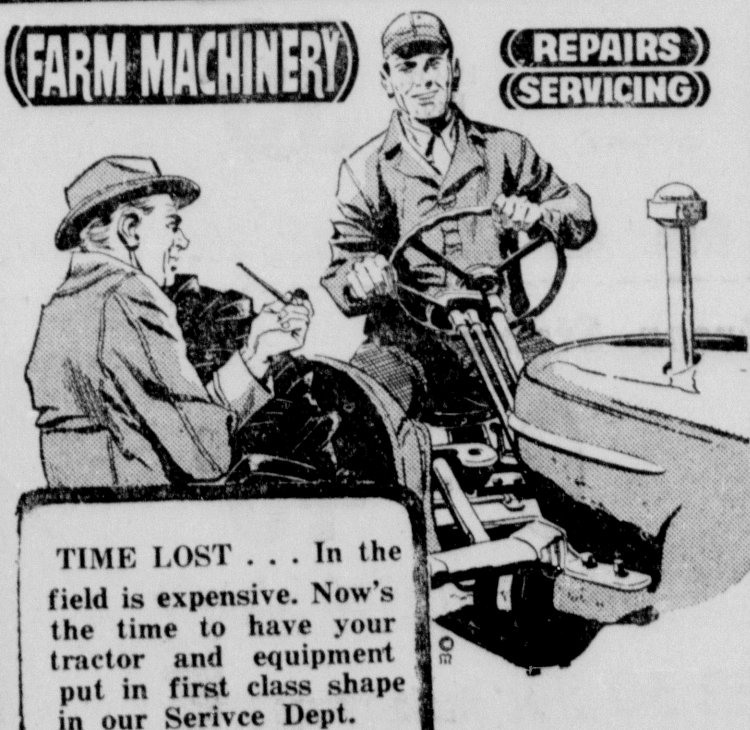

with an All-Electric Kitchen

EVERYTHING IS Flameless

A flameless, all-electric kitchen means better living in so many ways. An electric refrigerator and food freezer provide storage space for a wide selection of foods bought in season when prices are low. An electric range assures exact cooking temperatures and a clean, cool kitchen. A whisper-quiet exhaust fan moves cooking odors outside and a garbage disposer and dishwasher help get clean-up chores done in a jiffy.

For information about how you can enjoy the many benefits of an all-electric kitchen in your present home or in a new home, see your electrical appliance dealer, your builder or Texas Power & Light Company.
